Integrity Electric, Inc.

In 2009, Integrity Electric, a 17 year-old Marin based company, had its best year ever in terms of gross sales.

Despite the struggling economy and in a construction related business no less, that is indeed what happened!

Kari Thompson, co-founder with husband Jerry, relayed, "I knew 2009 was going strong yet the year-end numbers surprised me! Six years ago we made the fortunate decision to specialize in electrical service and remodel work. When the economy virtually eliminated new construction, our niche survived and the phones have kept ringing. Thankfully! Yet, I believe the main reason for our success is on-going prayer and the skill and integrity level of my husband Jerry and our amazing, hard-working crew.

Our customer's trust and loyalty mean everything to the entire 'Integrity Electric family.' Truly, in business all you have is your reputation - happy customers are the best advertisement."

Kari Thompson, a Tam High and UCLA Business graduate, enjoyed a successful corporate finance and commercial real estate career prior to Integrity Electric's inception in 1993. In the early years, Kari wore several hats and worked late into the night. Today Kari heads up the finance and marketing which allows for cherished family time! The office management is in Kim Williams, capable hands - a true gift from Heaven.
